Dear Mr Hancock, MP

My name is Eliza and I am a pupil at Hopton Primary School and this week for Justice Week we have been learning about laws and why we need them.

I am writing to you as I would like you to consider this new law. I believe this new law will benefit children. My law idea is that any families that do not earn enough money for food should be entitled to a £20 food token per month for each child to spend in a supermarket of their choice.

The money must be spent on a balanced diet consisting of fruit, vegetables, protein, meat, carbohydrate and dairy, unless there are any allergies.

Have you ever witnessed anything worse than going to bed with an empty stomach? It is horrible, mean and despicable that children are starving because they can't afford food.

This is why my law is important. It can stop this happening by giving a bit more food.

I look forward to your response.

Yours sincerely,
Eliza.

Dear Mr Hancock, MP,

My name is Rebekah and I am a pupil at Hopton Primary School, during Justice week we have been finding out about laws.

I am writing to you as I would like you to put forward an idea of a suggestion to get people a bit more active, the law I would like to introduce is: IF a place is within 2 miles of your home, unless it is for work you have to do a form of exercise to get there.

I believe this law will benefit the lives of children because it will mean that they will have to do a form of exercise to get there (to school) and it will mean that there will be less so much pollution especially in large cities.

Another reason I feel strongly that the law should be changed is that it helps to get everyone outside.

I am concerned that if this law is not changed and slowly introduced, then people will continue to go in the car and pollute the air more than ever, this is not a good idea and should be changed to cycling, walking or even running.

I look forward to your response.

yours sincerely

Rebekah

Dear Mr Hancock, MP

My name is Jonathan and I am a pupil at Hopton primary school.

I am writing to you as I would like you to change the law on free after school sports clubs, with smaller schools possibly having the use of leisure centres or village halls from 3-5pm.

I believe this will benefit children because we need to get regular exercise and stay fit. Especially since being in lockdown so long, some children have not had the chance to be active as much. A lot of families cannot pay for after school clubs so some children miss out and don't have the same experiences. If we all keep fit, then it's scientifically proven that we learn better too and it helps to keep our minds healthy.

In a small school like mine we don't always have many clubs to choose from and they can be really expensive. So I thought that it could be free for children to book into a leisure centre or club set up in a village hall, then there would be lots of choice too. It would mean that children wanted to take part in more things. Bigger schools could have lots of choices after school using their halls. The clubs could be run by sports staff across the country, so this would also help a lot of people who lost their jobs recently due to covid 19.

Another reason that I think the law should change is that it would mean we could meet new people and feel proud of new achievements.

I am concerned that if this law is not introduced then young people who don't stay fit will have health problems as adults. This means it costs a lot more to the national health service with them needing to use it lots as adults rather than spending the money on free clubs when we're young. Overall I think this would save money. Also if we're active when we're young then we will stay in that mindset when we are adults.

Please can you campaign to change the law by mentioning it in the Houses of Parliament.

I look forward to your response.

Yours sincerely,

Jonathan Zagni.
