KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS

In discussion with the children it is clear they have the skills to be reflective about their own beliefs and perspectives and have knowledge and respect for different people's faiths, values and feelings and have a sense of fascination in learning about themselves, others and the world around them.

‘Your pupils clearly feel safe and are happy to share their views with others. I got a real sense of community and cohesiveness from all of my conversations and very much got the impression that there is a Hopton family- all aiming to improve all aspects of school life. It is clear from your fundraising initiatives that the pupils of Hopton have a real sense of helping those less fortunate, not only in their community but in the wider world.’

NEXT STEPS

- Continue to embed gold standard CPD for all staff in their understanding and implementation of British values. To ensure that CPD can be delivered by all staff.
- To ensure that all pupils understand the difference between culture and religion or faith and are able to articulate and explain the difference. To facilitate this, it is encouraged that you invite people of different faiths and cultures in to deliver talks and assemblies – in person or virtually.
- To develop and embed the idea of pupil led clubs, and to train staff to embed these skills in pupils.
